

fundraising director

- Untapped fundraising potential
- Competitive remuneration package
- Australia's oldest charity

Established in 1813, The Benevolent Society employs 800 staff and 900 volunteers to provide innovative services to over 10,000 vulnerable and disadvantaged children and adults in over 50 communities across metropolitan, regional and rural NSW and Qld.

Your challenge will be to increase fundraised income from $1m to $10m via the implementation of a sophisticated and well resourced fundraising strategy incorporating best practise disciplines. The majority of income will be sourced via major support from individuals, foundations, corporates and bequests.

You have a significant track record in driving philanthropic programs including the sensitive management of large organisations through the fundraising process. Your mature approach, intellect and your ability to think strategically will be key to your success.

If you have a passion for social justice and for the wellbeing of disadvantaged people please contact Richard Green on 02 8243 0570 or send your resume to cv@ngorecruitment.com quoting reference number 28630.
