

IT Manager

- Australia's leading nature conservation group
- IT support for campaigns and fundraising
- National focus

The Wilderness Society (TWS) is a national, community-based, environmental advocacy organisation whose purpose is protecting, promoting and restoring wilderness and natural processes across Australia.

In this role you will ensure that IT makes the best possible contribution to the organisation's fundraising and campaign goals. Leading a small team, you will implement the overall IT program on a national and local level and be responsible for infrastructure management, administration and support.

To succeed in this role you will possess high level understanding of IT solutions and extensive working knowledge of contemporary software development products and practices. You are a strategic thinker with exceptional communication skills and able to balance conflicting priorities. Your highly developed leadership, budgeting, project management and team building skills will be crucial to your success.

If you would like to combine your IT experience with your passion for the environment, contact Richard Green on 02 8243 0570 or send your resume to ngo_18@ngorecruitment.com
