- Represent artists from film, TV and beyond
- Do you love negotiating and contract management?
- Are you interested in human rights, advocacy and social justice?

The Media Entertainment & Arts Alliance is the professional organisation for the media, entertainment, sports and arts industries. It represents actors, journalists and entertainment industry employees and has over 22,000 members. The Alliance runs professional program activities and also campaigns on broader issues affecting members.

This role will be responsible for negotiating enterprise agreements in all areas of recorded performance. You will meet with members, drive membership campaigns and represent members in employment negotiations. You will also maintain a watching brief over industry issues relating to recorded or live performance.

You have a passion to represent performers and demonstrated high-level negotiation skills. Your background may be industrial relations, human resources or law and it is likely you may currently be working in the union, music, performing arts, cultural, community, education, advocacy or not-for-profit sectors.

If you want to advance the interests of the people who inform and entertain Australia, please contact Olivia Ryan on 02 8243 0570 or forward your resume to cv@ngorecruitment.com quoting ref #30100.
