

The Media Entertainment & Arts Alliance is the professional organisation and trade union for the media, entertainment and arts industries. It represents actors, journalists and entertainment industry employees and has over 20,000 members. The Alliance has created the following senior positions reporting to the Federal Secretary. These positions will ideally be based in Sydney but flexible for the right candidate.

chief operating officer

Engaging and empowering key stakeholders you will lead and develop all strategy and planning, ensuring organisational excellence required to best represent members and meet the future needs, mission and values of the Alliance. You will manage all resources, virtual and physical, with a focus on workforce strategies, third party contractors, information resources, technology, property and internal support structures. Working with the Financial Controller you will oversee and manage national budgets.

You have extensive experience in general management, executive or COO level roles, with relevant tertiary qualifications. You can demonstrate your expertise delivering complex commercial and social human resources outcomes.

Ref: 30967

director, policy, campaigns & communications

This unique role in the Australian union movement will play a key leadership role in the development of cutting edge thinking in relation to policy, campaigns and communications strategy across the Alliance at both national and regional level. Integrating a national team you will consolidate and implement communications externally and across the organisation to support campaign and membership growth. You will also establish relationships with national and international organisations, think tanks, the social change movement, key policy makers and corporations.

You have extensive experience in managing internal and external communications and/or public affairs, developing policy position and a strong history of campaign execution. You have an informed strategic mind that harnesses practical ideas based on a sound knowledge of the union or social movement.

Ref: 30969

director, industrial & organising

With the needs of members front of mind, you will have the goal of growing the union to build power at work for the people who inform and entertain Australia. Leading a skilled team of organisers and industrial staff, you will develop and implement the industrial and organising strategies of the Alliance. This will include coordination of workplace campaigns including collective bargaining across a variety of large and small workplaces. You will coordinate campaigns to build power for contingent workers in the industry. You will have skills and initiative to plan campaigns, manage staff, coordinate work with other leaders of the organisation to achieve targeted outcomes, negotiate outcomes and manage relations with other stakeholders.

You are currently performing a similar role in a like-minded organisation with the expected high level of enthusiasm and initiative this important role demands. Ref: 30968

If you want to advance the interests of the people who inform and entertain Australia and have the skills required we want to hear from you. Please contact Richard Green or Annie Barker on 02 8243 0570 or forward your resume to cv@ngorecruitment.com quoting the relevant reference number.